MANY MENOne Wreck Near Cheyenne,
Wyoming, To-day

IN WHICH 3 WERE KILLED

Six Are Known to Have Been Killed
Just Outside New Orleans—Four
Dead in Wreck at Deep River, Conn.

Denver, Nov. 11.—Three persons were killed and three were badly injured in a freight wreck at Boris, near Cheyenne, Wyoming, today. An extra freight collided with an engine and a caboose. The wreckage then caught fire. Three of the crew were killed and all the rest were badly hurt.

The freight got beyond control on a heavy grade. The train was doubled in a heap, with the engine underneath.

Ned Orleans, Nov. 11.—Six are known to have been killed and a score were injured in a wreck just outside the city limits today.

Deep River, Conn., Nov. 11.—Two men were killed outright, two others fatally injured and half a dozen severely, when a wreck train, with Italian section hands aboard, crashed into the rear of a freight train, headed south, standing on the main track of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad in front of the station here yesterday afternoon. There were twenty-eight Italians on the work train, which consisted of two cabooses and the engine, and all suffered injuries.

The dead are Frank A. Furlong of New London, a brakeman on the work train, and one of the Italian section hands. The injured were placed on board a special car and sent to New Haven.

The work train was backing down around a curve from Arnold's station, and the engineer says the train had no warning that the collision was near. He also claims that the flagman of the freight train was not more than ten feet from the rear of his train.

Conductor Paige was in the rear caboose, while the dead brakeman was in the engine of the same car. When it was seen that the collision could not be prevented the conductor, as well as the fireman of the train, jumped. Furlong could not get out, and when the two trains came together, telescoping the two cabooses and crushing back the two rear cars of the freight, the brakeman was caught in the wreckage and crushed to death. Many of the victims were terribly torn and cut.

MADE CHILDREN STEAL.

Youngsters Feared a Whipping and Newport Refrigerators Suffered.

Newport, Nov. 11.—It appears that Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon Goodhue have been training their children to steal from refrigerators and if the youngsters returned at night from a petty thieving expedition with empty hands they were whipped and denied breakfast. This made the two boys, the elder 13 years old, very ambitious to please their parents and any number of back porches about town have suffered in consequence.

Napoleon Goodhue was arrested a few days ago for stealing hay from the barn of C. L. Drown. To this he pleaded guilty and was sentenced to three months in the house of correction. He was accompanied as far as Vergennes yesterday by his two sons, aforementioned, who are to attend the state industrial school. Mother and sister Maud are on probation, search of the Goodhue house on complaint of Mrs. George Kendall having revealed things to eat from many larders and a variety of other loots.

TIDE IS TURNING
FOR THE EMPERORThe Fearful Grilling That The Emperor
Got Yesterday Is Causing a Reaction in His Favor.

Berlin, Nov. 11.—With no appreciable diminution of national wide interest the yesterday today began the second and last day of debate on interpellations of the emperor for recent indiscretions. The prospects of violent attacks packed the gallery. The national and united liberals, conservatives, imperialist conservatives and agrarians joined in the attack. They demanded some sort of a pledge from the kaiser that he would refrain from giving out an interview in the future without first submitting his remarks to his ministers and foreign officers. They declared that otherwise Germany would eventually become involved in a war.

Just as soon as the atmosphere cleared and the people have an opportunity to forget the affair Chancellor Von Bismarck's friends say he will give up his post. The fearful grilling the emperor received yesterday aroused pity, and a slight change in sentiment in his favor was noticeable today.

QUILL DEFEATED.

Evening.

Boston, Nov. 11.—"Young" Loughery of Philadelphia, who two weeks ago fought a draw with "Tommy" Quill of Brooklyn, last night defeated Quill before a large crowd.

The bout was fast and furious, both men sticking to in-fighting for nearly all the match. The decision met with favor.

NEW YORK STATE
JOINS HANDS WITH VT.Joint Commissions on The Champlain
Celebration Meet at Montpelier and Listen to The Plans.

Following his signing of the bill appropriating $25,000 to the Lake Champlain tercentenary late yesterday, Governor Proctor appointed the following commissioners from Vermont to have charge of the expenditure of this money and of the celebration: W. H. Crockett of St. Albans; L. M. Hays of Essex Junction; Horace W. Bailey of Newbury; President John M. Thomas of Middlebury; W. J. Van Patten and F. O. Beaupre of Burlington; Frank L. Fish of Vergennes; Arthur F. Stone of St. Johnsbury. Gov. George H. Prouty is ex-officio chairman of joint commission and there is one more member to be appointed later.

The New York Champlain commission was in Montpelier last night and a joint session was held by the two organizations in the executive chambers of Governor Proctor, with the Vermont ex-officio chairman presiding.

For a memorial was presented by Louis G. LaFontaine of the New York commission. These plans take the form of a colossal lighthouse with a statue of Champlain at the base. There were three plans shown. The height called for is 120 feet and it is said that the light shown at this elevation would be visible from the city of New York. The memorial located on Isle La Motte, would be seen as far north as St. John's, P. Q., and far south as Crown Point and Ticonderoga. One of the plans shows a museum at the base where it is proposed to assemble the relics that have been unearthed on Isle La Motte and other places in the Champlain valley.

The Hon. H. Wallace Knapp, president and Senator Henry W. Hill, secretary of the New York commission, explained their inquiries on the subject of pagants and they recommended that the battle of Champlain with the Indians be made one of the important pagants and that this be given at Ticonderoga, Plattsburgh and Burlington. The presentation of the Indian spectacle of Hiawatha has been considered and the New York commission recommends that this be made a feature. Congressman Foster was invited to explain the methods adopted in securing from Congress an appropriation both for the entertainment of foreign guests as well as for a memorial and he was very confident that the United States government would treat both appeals generously.

The meeting was one in which a uniform desire was expressed by members of both commissions that the proposed celebration be made one in which every person who had to do in its building and every person who came to the Champlain valley at the time of the celebration would be proud of the undertaking.

BAIL DENIED MORSE.

It Came as a Hard Blow to The Former Multi-millionaire.

New York, Nov. 11.—Bail was denied Charles W. Morse, the financier who has been sentenced to 15 years' imprisonment at hard labor, at the closing of the United States circuit court of appeals yesterday, and it now seems certain that the former multi-millionaire must remain in the Tombs prison at least until December 8 next, when argument on the writ of error that has been granted him may be argued.

Morse has been hopeful of gaining his release from the Tombs today and the denial of bail came as a hard blow. His wife and son, Harry, had been with him in the jail during the afternoon and they encouraged him in the belief that he would be free by nightfall.

The court of appeals left one loophole open to Morse's counsel, in deciding that while bail was denied it was done so "without prejudice to a renewal of the application after a bill of particulars is filed."

PRISONER WAS TURNED BACKBy Both House of Correction
and County Jail

PECULIAR CASE ARISES

John Quilligan Sentenced by a Middlebury Justice of the Peace Cause of a Great Deal of Legal Complication.

Middlebury, Nov. 11.—State's Attorney Russell and Justice of the Peace F. A. Moulton are in a quandary what to do with John Quilligan, a man who was sentenced on Monday night to the house of correction from Justice Moulton's court for tramping. When an officer took Quilligan to the house of correction, the warden there refused to accept the prisoner, stating that the sentence for conviction of tramping must be served in the county jail.

Being thus turned down by the house of correction warden, the officer brought Quilligan back to Middlebury and started to put him in the Addison county jail. There also he was refused the right to imprison the tramp, on the ground that the prisoner's mittimus called for his sentence to be served in the house of correction. Not knowing what to do, State's Attorney Russell communicated with Attorney General Fitts, and the latter told Russell to keep the prisoner until he had time to straighten the matter out. So Quilligan is being held here until State's Attorney Russell returns from consultation with Attorney General Fitts. Mr. Russell went to Montpelier early this morning to see the attorney general.

GIRL TESTIFIES AGAINST PRIEST.

Lena Black Says Fr. Crociata Told Her to Let Santoro Follow Her.

Rutland, Nov. 11.—Lena Black, the 17-year-old girl, who stood the greater part of yesterday in the trial of the Rev. Francis Crociata, the priest, who is accused of complicity in the murder of Accorito Santoro. The girl seemed nervous, and was often at a loss to understand the questions.

She said Fr. Crociata told her that she must go with Giovanni Giola at night and let Santoro, who was paying her attention, follow them to the old 76th bridge, where the other men, two of whom are now serving sentences for the murder were to strip Santoro and shame him so that he would molest the girl no longer.

The priest told her, she said, that it would not only be right but an honor for her to go, because Santoro was ruining her character. After Santoro had resisted the attempts of his assailants to strip him and was killed in the struggle, the girl said the priest coerced her to say nothing of what had occurred.

On cross-examination by E. H. O'Brien, attorney for Fr. Crociata, the girl admitted that she would never have told the story of the murder to the authorities if she had not been placed in solitary confinement at the house of correction and been told by the matron that she would never be let out until she had disclosed all. The witness denied, however, that she ever told Mr. O'Brien that she was kept on bread and water and told she would stay in the cell until she "rotted" if she did not confess.

STEAMER WRECKED.

By Explosion of Boiler and Five Are Reported Dead.

North Bay, Ont., Nov. 11.—The steamer Temiskaming was approaching the landing at Temiskaming at six o'clock last night when the boiler exploded, wrecking the steamer and causing the death of at least five persons by explosion or drowning. Several passengers and crew were hurled into the water by the shock and many are injured.

Owing to the remoteness of the scene of the tragedy details are lacking. A man named McBride, a hunter from the United States, is missing and there is little doubt of his fate. J. Menard and T. Bergouhan, firemen, and two men whose names are unknown, are dead. Six are badly burned and several may die.

A special train was despatched from Mattawa to bring the injured to that town.

GIRL STILL SLEEPS.

Attempt to Wake Lowell Slumberer
Poisoned to Today.

Lowell, Nov. 11.—The attempt which the physicians had planned to make today to rouse Lowell's sleeping girl, Miss Luciana Piette, from the stupor into which she sank 10 days ago by the use of electricity has been postponed until this afternoon. It was thought that she was not strong enough today. The methods recommended by Dr. Brock and Dr. Balliet will probably be used. The girl's head will be made warm and her feet cold. Then electrodes will be placed at the opposite ends of the spine and a gentle current of electricity applied.

WOMAN LASHED
MIDDLEBURY MAN"You Would Insult Me" "You Would Use Abusive Language to Me!"
She Cried as She Swung
Her Whip.

Middlebury, Nov. 11.—With a rawhide whip which she had concealed under her clothing Mrs. Cranston Owens, wife of a former Middlebury physician, administered a vigorous beating to Foremaster William Jackson on Main street yesterday afternoon, during the busy hours, before a crowd of more than 50 people. Mrs. Owens was arrested later on a warrant sworn out by Mr. Jackson, charging assault. She was taken to the Addison county jail, where she was given a hearing last night before Justice A. W. Dickens, pleading guilty and paying a fine of $1 and costs.

Mrs. Owens, who is 40 years old, came here with her husband from Utica, N. Y., three years ago. Last summer her husband returned to Utica, owing to poor health. Mr. Jackson is prominent here, having held nearly every town office.

The trouble grew out of Mr. Jackson's attempt to collect a bill placed in his hands by a man named Mrs. Owens' horses owned two weeks ago, and refused to pay it when it was presented last Sunday. She alleges Mr. Jackson used abusive language to her, but he denies this.

She approached the postmaster quietly yesterday afternoon while he was standing on the sidewalk, then suddenly pulled out the whip and struck him fully 20 blows before he could escape. She accompanied the blows with the exclamations, "You would insult me," and "You would use abusive language to me."

"When the warrant for her arrest was served she made no comment and went through the subsequent proceedings calmly."

ONE IS KILLED,
FOUR ARE INJUREDWorkmen Fall 35 Feet With Planking—
Derrick Rope Breaks While Lifting Granite Block.

Augusta, Me., Nov. 11.—John Mahali, aged 30, was killed and four others injured yesterday by the giving away of a derrick on the third floor of the Coney high school annex, which is in process of construction.

Mahali died soon after being taken to the City hospital, and Paul Velous of the City hospital, who was on duty, said he was badly wounded. It is thought he is suffering from internal injuries. Charles Brooks and George Doyle were also badly shaken up and were taken to their homes. Edward L. Lovejoy, though considerably bruised, remained at work for the rest of the day.

The derrick was resting on a platform over the main entrance on the third floor and while the workmen were engaged in hoisting a 1,000-pound granite block, one of the guy ropes broke, throwing the derrick out of place and so disturbing the planking as to take the whole flooring out and precipitating the five men to the cellar, a distance of 35 to 40 feet.

BEFORE STATE TAX COMES

Mr. Fletcher of the Ways and Means Committee Cautioned the Legislature To-day—His Recommendations.

State House, Nov. 11.

Allen M. Fletcher of Cavendish, chairman of the ways and means committee in the House, this morning reported on the state's finances, in connection with which there have been some differences of opinion expressed on the floor of the House, especially as to the amount that might be expected to be on hand under normal conditions the first of July, next year. Mr. Fletcher's speech was concise and it clearly defined the financial situation of the state. He said that if the revenue continues until next July at the rate expected, without extra calls for expenditure, there will be in the treasury next July about $170,000.

He stated that his estimate was predicated on the best information available. He stated that the revenue of the state had increased greatly during the past few years by means of indirect taxation, but that he believed that the state had gone just about as far as it could in this line. He called the House's attention to the fact that over $100,000 was spent by the state for cattle killed by reason of tuberculosis, and that this represented about one-tenth of the state's entire revenue. He believed the legislature should give this item its serious consideration. He just touched upon the object of this expenditure enough to show that it was ineffective in accomplishing its end.

The following figures on which the statement of Mr. Fletcher is largely based will give an idea of the conditions. The total approximate receipts of the state up to the close of the year ending July 1 will be $1,125,000. At the beginning of the year there was cash on hand of $183,000. These two items added together give the amount available, or $1,308,000. The expenses of the state up to July 1 next year are estimated at about $1,135,000. The expenses subtracted from the amount available leaves a little over $170,000.

He sounded the alarm on the expenditure of too much money for special purposes, by stating that the treasury would have only this $170,000 next July for special appropriations, and he understood that the appropriations committee already had bills in its hands calling for over a half million. He remarked that personally he did not favor a direct tax on the people at this time to meet expenses, and again called attention to the fact that in his opinion the state's revenue had been increased to about the limit by means of indirect taxation. He did not wish to advise the legislature any farther than was his duty as a member of the committee whose business it was to make provision for sums to meet the demands of the legislative body.

In closing he stated that it was his personal belief that some radical legislation should be taken with reference to the destruction of cattle killed, either to reduce the appalling number of cattle killed or stop it altogether. Mr. Boutwell of Stockbridge endorsed the remarks of the speaker on the cattle question, and Mr. Green of Middletown Springs stated that the highest authorities had also expressed doubt as to whether the disease was communicable from cattle to human beings.

Other business was transacted in the House and Senate, but the absorbing topic of discussion was the state's finances.

No Raise in Pay For Side Judges.

After killing the bill to raise the pay of assistant judges of county courts from three to four dollars per diem, the House yesterday afternoon adopted four resolutions, that the standing committees on military affairs in both houses respect the soldiers' home at Bennington (second) limited resolution to the medalion portrait of Major William Wells, (thirdly) to establish a commission to examine state banks and bank laws, and finally to permit the committee on town laws to visit Pawlet to investigate a proposed division of the town.

The Senate yesterday afternoon passed the House bill removing the death penalty for making an armed attack (by three or more persons) for robbery or murder motives, making the punishment life imprisonment or not less than five years, or to be fined $10,000. The Senate killed the pure food measure introduced by Mr. Howe of Bennington in the House, making sellers of bread or cake wrap their wares in waxed, tissue or similar paper. The House had passed the bill.

New Bills in House.

Among the new measures presented in the House to-day was one relating to holidays, adding October 12 as Discovery day to commemorate the discovery of America by Columbus.

By Mr. Davis of Brighton, relating to dogs in unorganized towns and gorges.

Aug. 16 to be known as "Bennington Battle Day," Sept. 1 as "Labor Day," and Oct. 12 as "Discovery Day," to commemorate the discovery of America by Columbus.

Killed and Passed.

The House killed the bill to-day to provide for weekly payments for milk and cream, also that making a close season on milk, foxes and raccoons, as well as one relating to pollution of the water of Castleton river. It passed the bill to amend the Brattleboro village incorporation, also that relating to liability of estates of deceased paupers, that relating to limitations of actions against towns for injuries on highways and that coding to the United States exclusive jurisdiction on certain lands in Weybridge.

The two cases against Marietta Percetti, charged with keeping, were continued, as were the cases in the case of A. L. ACCEPT PERSONAL SAVIOR

Was the Plea of Evangelist Toy Last Evening.

The union evangelistic meeting at Hedding M. E. church was well attended last night, with much enthusiasm in singing by the large number of people. The music is a prominent feature of this Chapman campaign, and all seem to enjoy the singing of these gospel songs.

Dr. Toy delivered a powerful sermon from the text uttered by the Philippian jailor to Paul and Silas, after he discovered that God had sent an angel to open the prison doors and loosen the shackles and stocks to set these persecuted evangelists at liberty. "What must I do to be saved?"

He said in part: This is a personal matter with each individual. There is nothing that one can do to merit salvation. It is a gift from God, and it is by Jesus Christ on the cross, but in order to be redeemed from sin we must accept Him as our personal Saviour. Joining a church, or all the churches in Christendom, will not save a person. Being baptized in all the waters of America or the waters of Jordan will not save. Reading the Bible through again and again will not save. Only believing in and accepting Jesus Christ as our personal Saviour and their working and living for Him will save a sinner for his sins.

11 Deaths During October and the Police Chief Reported 20
Arrests.

The board of aldermen at their regular meeting last evening had a small attendance and a short session. Aldermen Thurston and Alexander were absent and what little business the clerk had to present was quickly disposed of. In the absence of President Thurston, Alderman Campbell, president pro tem, presided.

The committee on streets, to whom had been referred the application of L. B. Dodge for a permit to remove three trees from the sidewalk in front of his lot on North Main street, recommended that he be granted a permit, provided Mr. Dodge does the work at his own expense and risk, and the report was accepted on motion made by Alderman McNulty.

The health officer's report for the month of October was read, showing 22 births and 11 deaths during the month. The report of the police department for October was also read as follows: Total arrests 206, for intoxication 15, larceny 2, breach of peace 1, keeping a gambling resort 1, discharging fire arms in the city 1.

Mr. Minnie K. Sibley made a request for a permit to move two barns to the rear of her lot on Berlin street, and on motion of Alderman Ladd the permit was ordered granted.

The following reports from the building inspector were read and on motion of Alderman Ladd permits were ordered granted: George B. Milne, to re-top chimney; Mr. Irish, to re-top chimney; B. P. Willey, to cover roof of hen house and re-top three chimneys; A. F. Dodge, to cover roof of barn; M. D. Lamb, to re-top chimney; O. N. Canton, to patch roof of house; O. J. Anderson & Sons, to build an extension to their stone shed.

Alderman Campbell stated to the board that several complaints had been made to him in regard to the alleged poorly ventilated condition of the moving picture theatres in the city, and he suggested that the board of health look into the matter up.

Alderman Ladd stated that W. S. Littlejohn's lot at the corner of Trow avenue and Orange street, had been assessed for sewer on two sides, and as the city could not legally assess only on one side, he made a motion that the assessment on the Orange street side, which was the shortest side of the plot, be abated. The motion was carried. Adjourned.
